

A large, multi-story brick building with many windows, serving as the background for the advertisement. The building is made of reddish-brown bricks and has a grid of windows. Some windows have white frames, while others have dark frames. The ground floor has several red doors and windows. There are cars parked in front of the building, including an orange car on the left and a dark grey car on the right. A tree with yellow leaves is visible in the top left corner.
